

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

'Bouquets for Books' returns
November 7-12 to collect NEW children's titles for Lancaster County Public Libraries!

Customers will receive free bouquet for donating

Lancaster, PA (October 24, 2011) – Bouquets for Books is back for a sixth year of collecting new children's books for area public libraries. During November 7-12, bring a new children's book to any Royer's Flowers & Gifts. Royer's customers will receive a free bouquet for each new children's book they bring to any of the companies' 19 stores in the six counties. Bouquets are limited to three per family per visit, while supplies last. Used books will not be accepted. To assist customers in selecting books to donate, public libraries in Lancaster County have created a "wish list" of children's book titles. (See attached list.)

Lancaster County public libraries have received nearly 2000 books since the project began. Five Lancaster County Royer's locations are in Columbia, Ephrata, Leola and Lancaster City (North and South) and Landisville Flower Shop.
